

John Smith – SAT Prep Study Plan

SAT Test Date(s): May 7, June 4

Study Plan Dates: April 4th – June 3rd

The study plan below outlines the chapter(s), pages from the books/binders, and timed practice sections or full practice SATs to complete each week. If at any point you complete your assignments before the end of the week and have more time for SAT Prep, start the assignments from the following week.

If you have any questions or need your study plan updated, you can email Matt at mstroup@scorebuildertestprep.com or text/call him at (760-687-5330).

Instructions:

As you complete the chapters in the Writing and Language and Reading courses, complete the practice questions as you see them. Do not skip over practice questions in the chapters! After each section with practice questions, check your answers using the answer key in the back of the book/binder pages and watch the videos explaining each question before moving to the next chapter.

For the Math Book, watch the videos in the Online Course that teach the lessons and work on the math questions in each chapter. All practice questions have detailed step-by-step solutions in the back of the book. Some practice questions also have video explanations in the Math Course.

Since you are not an advanced math student, do your best to complete all the practice questions in each chapter but do not get discouraged if you get stuck on or stumped by the harder questions later in the problem sets written for student aiming for 750+. Focus on the more understanding the easy/medium questions. For the harder questions, use the answer explanations in the back of the book. If they still seem confusing, that is OK, as again those are meant to stump top math students.

Diagnostic Sheets:

Use the diagnostic sheets anytime you review your practice SATs. The diagnostic sheets will tell you what topic(s) you are missing questions on and if there are any chapter(s) you need to review. In addition, the diagnostic sheets will help you learn to better spot the patterns of the SAT.

As you review your practice SATs, if you see Math chapters where you are missing a lot of questions that are not assigned or are not assigned until a later week, you can switch the chapters. Use your best judgment. The math chapters in your student guide are chosen since they are most heavily tested and are the ones that students at your math level will likely be able to do the best on. That being said, you are always welcome to do additional math chapters at any point! The more math chapters you complete, the better prepared you will be for test day. If you are ever unsure of what chapter(s) to complete, email or text Matt.

Diagnostic sheets can be found here: www.preppros.io/sat-glossary.

Practice SATs:

In your materials, there are 7+ practice SATs. The answers are in the back of each test. All of the tests are real, previously administered SATs. The practice tests should be in order with older practice tests on the top and most recent ones on the bottom. Start with the older practice SATs from 2017 or 2018. Save the more recent practice SATs from 2020 or 2021 for full practice SATs in the weeks before your real test date(s).

If you ever need more practice SATs, email Matt. We have 30+ practice SATs, so you are always welcome to do more than you are assigned for extra practice. Just be sure to always review your practice tests!

Schedule & Study Plan

The dates for each week of your SAT study plan are listed below.
